SEVENTEENTH YEAR

GETTYSBURG, PA., TUESDAY, APRIL 29th, 1919.

COURT SESSION CLOSED AT NOON

Many Cases Settled Outside.
Wolfe Agrees to Pay Costs.

McKONLEY TO GLEN MILLS

Number of Cases Continued. Kauffman is Released on Parole. Charged with Stealing Ring.

Regular term of criminal court ended this morning, as the only case to be tried, namely that of Cyrus Wolfe against Washington Wolf, in an action of trespass, was settled on Monday night. The case ended upon the payment of all costs by the defendant, Washington Wolf, and his agreement to remove the fence he erected in 1916.

Cases of J. H. Stover against J. Herman Bream and that of Milton Wolf against Lawrence Enmet were continued until the November Court while all other cases scheduled for the Court of Common Pleas were continued pending settlement.

Raymond McKonley, fourteen year old youth, pleaded guilty to the charge of furnishing John Miller with the hacksaw which the latter used to make his escape on March 28 and was sentenced to Glen Mills for an indefinite period.

In the Quarter Sessions Court the cases of Commonwealth versus Clarence Sneringer and H. W. Gebhart and Commonwealth versus M. S. Kimmel were settled. Commonwealth versus George L. Myers was continued until August, and cases against John Myers and Washington Wolf will be heard Saturday. The cases of the Commonwealth versus Paul Carey and against Jacob Ditzler were continued until August. Case of Commonwealth versus Herbert Law was not prossed and the case against Lawrence Trostle, David Kauffman, and J. E. Nace were settled.

Cases of David Cohen and of Carl Fuls, coming from last August's term of court were continued. Cases of Bessie Toddes, Joseph Carson, and Charles McCaffery, all continued from former terms of court, were not prossed. Case against John and James Hoffman was disposed of.

Directly after John Miller and Fred Moore were sentenced by the court, Monday afternoon, the large crowd was relieved of the strain of listening intently to a serious case when John H. Kauffman appeared on the charge of alleged larceny of a ring from Jeweler Weikert, of Littlestown, and was given suspended sentence on plea of William Hersh Esq.

It had been said that Kauffman went to Littlestown, purchased a ring from Weikert, and then later slipped another ring into his pocket. Kauffman has been confined in jail for about six weeks for his alleged theft and it was this same ring that John Miller took when he escaped from jail on March 28 and consequently received another year in prison on an additional charge of larceny.

William H. Hersh told the court that Kauffman had been employed by the LeGore Line Company, "was a man of industrious habits, and had an excellent reputation in the community from which he came."

He said, "Kauffman comes from the dry state of Maryland and, although he is not a man addicted to the use of liquor, he drank a trifle too much when he came across the line to Littlestown and fell in with some old Pennsylvania friends." Evidently, the counsel continued, "he had not the slightest intention of stealing the ring for he committed the act while intoxicated and offered either to give the ring back or purchase it when it was discovered on his person."

Frequently Kauffman rose from his seat to add his version of the story and caused a great amount of laughter when he said, "Yes, your honor, I drank a little beer and then some gin but was all right until they fed me those gin hickies or rickies, or whatever you call them."

HONOR STAR FOR EAST BERLIN

District Almost Doubles Victory Loan Quota. Menallen and Bendersville Over.

GETTYSBURG STILL LAGS

Approximately $100,000 in Bonds Must Come in Before Wednesday Night.

To the East Berlin district goes the first honor of winning the blue star for the Victory Loan Flag. The residents of that town have almost doubled their quota in the last great bond drive. With a quota of $63,190, sub-chairman, John M. Rider, has reported sales amounting to $105,000. The honor star has been sent to him and East Berlin can boast of the highest award yet given in this campaign in Adams county. These stars will be given to each district that exceeds its quota by fifty per cent.

Slowly but surely the outlying districts of the county are reporting success in reaching their goals. Menallen township, with a quota of $39,130 has gone over the top by a good margin. C. I. Blair and T. F. Wright, chairmen of the district are now working for an honor star for Menallen. Bendersville workers, too, have finished the job assigned to them. Dr. J. G. Stover reports several thousand dollars over the $17,300 quota already subscribed.

With the Victory bond sales totals rapidly approaching $800,000 an optimistic view of the campaign's ending Wednesday is held by many of the staff at Loan Headquarters. Unofficial reports from every district in the county, except the three Gettysburg wards, indicate that the drive in the rural districts is practically completed. Efforts of leaders will be directed for the remaining day to Gettysburg in an endeavor to make the town take its share of the Loan. Although approximately $100,000 worth of bonds must be sold here before Wednesday night, the sub-chairmen and officers of the wards are confident that it can be done.

WILL END WAR CAMP WORK HERE

Local Committee Decides to Close Accounts. Have Performed Valuable Service.

War Camp Community activity in Gettysburg will be discontinued. This decision was reached at a meeting of the committee held Monday. Joseph L. Garvin who is in charge of the work in this section of the State was present and it was upon his recommendation that the movement, which has been conducted successfully in Gettysburg, will be abandoned.

There is little need for such an organization here now that Camp Colt will soon pass out of existence. Gettysburg has no problem of caring for returned soldiers such as is felt in larger cities and the decision of the committee is generally accepted as a wise one.

An auditor will be sent here from the New York office to make final settlement of the Gettysburg accounts. The house on West Middle street which has been used by the soldiers for more than a year will be closed and the equipment sold. All matters pertaining to the War Camp Community Service will be closed before July 1.

CAPTAIN CITED FOR BRAVERY

John C. Gray Married Goldie Widder in 1917. Gets Divisional Honor.

Captain John C. Gray of the 312th Infantry has been cited for bravery and meritorious service in divisional orders of the 78th Division. Captain Gray was at Gettysburg during the summer of 1917 with the Regulars. During his stay at Gettysburg he married Miss Goldie Widder. The citation reads:

"Captain John C. Gray, 312th Infantry, on or about October 18-20, 1918 at Grand Pre, France, at great personal risk to himself, voluntarily took charge of, and under shell fire, personally reorganized Company 'H', 312th Infantry, when this organization was without officers and badly demoralized on account of casualties."

"Throughout the four days during which the 2nd Battalion was in the front line at Grand Pre, he continued in command of Company 'H' in addition to retaining command of his own company, Company 'G', and personally directed both, a task which necessitated his remaining out day and night in the most exposed out-post positions of both companies."

"In carrying out this task Captain Gray remained continuously under shell fire for approximately 96 hours without rest or relief."

CHICAGO REPORT

Corn and Pork Drops in Price Smashing.

(By Associated Press)
Chicago, April 29—Tremendous price smashing took place on the Board of Trade. Holders of grain and provisions competed in efforts to unload and to stop losses on a declining market. A long threatened free movement of corn and hogs from rural sources was responsible for the general rush to sell.

The break as shown after midday amounted to eighty and a quarter cents on corn and $1.30 on a barrel of pork.

Accompanying the break in prices and forming aid to a sentiment for a cheaper value was a notice from Federal Directors that the government discontinue until further notice, purchases of wheat flour for export excepting first clears and victory mixed flours. The purpose is to stop speculative fever.

WARNER-HOKE

William H. Warner, Hanover, and Miss S. Lida Hoke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin L. Hoke, Abbottstown, were married last Saturday evening. The wedding took place at Abbottstown at 7:30 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by the bride's grandfather, the Rev. David Baker, at the home of her parents.

HEAVIEST PRISON TERM IN YEARS

That of John Miller's. Judge States Reasons for Severe Penalty.

JUDGE ADDRESSES BOYS

Says they Cannot be Trusted. Miller had Thirty Drinks on Night of Shooting.

Not less than twenty seven nor more than thirty three years imprisonment which was given John Miller, assailant of Abner Mills, by the Court of Adams county, Monday afternoon, is the most severe penalty recorded here for many years.

Before imposing the heavy sentence to which the defendant had pleaded guilty, Judge McPherson gave the reason for such action by the court when he said to Miller, "You have previously appeared before this court and have been shown leniency but have proven that the court cannot rely upon you. Your crime was pre-intended and committed with specific intent to rob Abner Mills even if you had to kill him to get the money. Only Mills' recovery has saved you from being here on the charge of murder." For these reasons the Court said it had no alternative but to impose a most severe penalty.

When asked by the court if he had anything to say before the sentence was pronounced Miller arose and entered a plea of intoxication. He said, "On that night I had between twenty five and thirty drinks and at the time I shot Mills I did not know what I was doing."

That statement, however, failed to alter the course of the court in the least and Miller stood immovable while he heard the six sentences pronounced that will send him to the Eastern Penitentiary for almost a generation.

District Attorney Raymond Topper related the facts of the case to the court and in behalf of the Commonwealth asked for a severe sentence to be imposed on both boys as their uncalled for crime had been performed upon an innocent person and that the presence of such persons as Miller and Moore, his accomplice, was a menace to the community.

Moore said to the court, "I am sorry for what I have done, your honor, and as this is my first appearance before any court I feel that I should not have a heavy sentence."

In reply Judge McPherson said, "As this is your first offense the court feels that some degree of leniency should be shown you, but your crime is so serious and threatens such dreadful consequences that it cannot be overlooked without severe punishment being dealt." He then sentenced Moore to not less than seventeen nor more than twenty years.

ENTERTAINED BY CLOVERLEAVES

Large Crowd Enjoys Last Performance of High School Society.

"An Appeal to the Town Clock", a humorous reading, made a decided hit before the large audience which greeted Cloverleaf Society, of High School, in their last performance of the year on Monday night.

A farce comedy in one act entitled "The Templeton Teapot" was greatly appreciated but no part of the program gave greater possibility of enjoyment than the paper which said, "Shame on you town clock. At a time when every one is so busy, you with eight hands and a face turned in each direction, remain idle for months at a time."

"What has happened to you? Have you become tired and worn out by so many years of honest labor and do you need to be replaced by another? As the weather was still wintry when you stopped one would then have thought that your hands had frozen but it is far too warm now for that to be the case."

Other parts of the paper, which was read by Louise Bender, was filled with jokes and stories about High School students.

"Cast of 'The Templeton Teapot' was as follows: Mr. Templeton, Clair Winebrenner; Mrs. Templeton, Mary Appler; Hilda Templeton, Ellen Tipton; Prof. Algernon Gotes, Gilbert Bell; Aunt Sue, Mary Kissinger, Mr. Burnett, Donald Weiser; Mrs. Burnett, Gladys Weikert; Eric Dean, Donald Weikert.

Recitation entitled "Miss Edith Helps Things Along" by Nellie Heagy; "The Scarecrow" chorus composed of Margaret Taylor, Esther Zeiders, Anna Sefton, Martha Epply, Annetta Miller and Anna Bream were other numbers on the program.

Music was furnished by the High School Orchestra and a piano solo by Mary Jane Seylar.

WILL WITHHOLD FIGHT DECISION

Governor Harrington to Hear Protests Against Big Bout in Cumberland.

(By Associated Press)

Annapolis, Maryland, April 29—Governor Harrington said here this morning that unless something very unexpected crops up at to-day's session with the Cumberland promoters who are desirous of staging the Willard-Dempsey championship bout there on July 4th, that he will not give a decision to-day.

The opponents of the proposed contest, he said, want to be heard further in protest against it while those who are in favor of it are asking for a quick decision.

It is understood that Tex Rickard, the promoter, promised to wait until seven o'clock to-night for the decision.

The meeting with the Cumberland delegation is scheduled for two o'clock this afternoon.

TODDES' PETITION

Mother Claims Confinement is Affecting Daughter's Health.

At this morning's session of court May 19 was set for a hearing concerning the case of Bessie Toddes who maintains that perpetual confinement is seriously affecting her health.

The petition of her mother, Mary Toddes, was presented to the court stating that "the health of her daughter, Bessie Toddes, has been seriously impaired by confinement."

She has developed a catarrhal condition of the throat and nose, the petition says, and has lost considerable weight and her appetite is suffering from a general nervous breakdown caused by close confinement and lack of outdoor exercise. She is also suffering from bronchial condition, the petition continues, caused by close confinement in a room heated by a coal oil stove during the winter and this bronchial condition will likely develop into a general decline unless she can be released from confinement and be allowed plenty of fresh air, out-door exercise and proper care of a physician.

INSIGNIA FOR ARMY SERVICE

May be Issued to Soldiers at Quartermaster Office here.

IS A VICTORY BUTTON

Necessary for Service Man to Show Discharge or True Copy to Get Badge of Honor.

Camp Colt will be the distribution center in this vicinity of lapel Victory Buttons which will soon be issued to be worn by civilians discharged from the Army.

A War Department circular published and received at the Quartermaster office here concerning the buttons says that "those who have been discharged before a supply of buttons was available may secure a button by mailing to the supply officer of the nearest military post, camp or station, including a recruiting station, their original discharge certificate or a true copy."

Camp Colt is the only military post in this vicinity and will no doubt receive many applications for buttons as soon as they arrive. Many former soldiers will find it easier to come to Gettysburg than to go to Harrisburg or some other nearby city having a recruiting station.

Officers, enlisted men (excluding members of the Students' Army Training Corps), field clerks, and members of the Army Nurse Corps, who served honorably in the United States Army, for a period of fifteen days at any time between April 6, 1917 and November 11, 1918 will be issued the buttons.

For the present the Victory Button will be issued at time of honorable discharge to those entitled to it and to those who have already been honorably discharged. Later the button will be issued to all remaining in service entitled to it.

The true copy of a discharge certificate or of a discharge order must be executed by a civil officer empowered to administer oaths and be a full, literal and complete copy of the original and contain all written or printed matter appearing on both sides of the discharge certificate or discharge order.

Washington, April 29—The nine clauses proposed by the commission on international labor legislation for insertion in the Peace Treaty as adopted by the Peace Conference in plenary session were made public to-day by the State Department.

MARTIAL LAW IN INDIANA TOWN

Striking Telephone Operators Cause Trouble in Linton Monday Night.

STATE TROOPS CALLED

Mob Held Mass Meeting. Smashed Windows in Telephone Building. Want More Pay and Shorter Hours.

(By Associated Press)

Linton, Indiana, April 29—Martial law was declared and put into effect here to-day as a result of trouble attending the strike of telephone operators employed by the Neu Telephone company. State troops are patrolling the streets aided by local police. No violence has occurred since the mob which formed late Monday night dispersed between two and three o'clock this morning.

Martial law resulted from a demonstration in favor of about ten striking telephone operators following a mass meeting Monday night. A crowd estimated at several hundred went into the telephone building, smashed the windows and caused the girl operators to leave their switchboards. Local officers appealed to Governor Goodrich for assistance and two companies of State militia were sent to Linton.

The striking telephone operators demand increased pay, shorter hours and recognition of their union.

STOCK REPORT

Shipping and Oils Feature Market Dealings.

(By Associated Press)

New York, April 29—Interest in the dealings in the stock market this forenoon centered in shipping and oils, though the irregularities of the latter created some confusion. Atlantic Gulf advanced over six points, Pacific Mail gained four and a half and Sinclair oils gained two points before the usual realization movements effected moderate reversals.

Demands for sugar resulted in a five point gain for Cuban-American and nine points for Southern Porto Rico. Utilities were strong on prospective return of telephone and telegraph lines to private ownership. United States steel developed a strong tone at midday, secondary rails also coming forward.

UPHOLDS BURLESON

Wilson Approves Recommendation to Return Telephone Systems.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, April 29—President Wilson has approved Postmaster General Burleson's recommendation that the telephone and telegraph systems be returned to their owners upon the enactment of legislation deemed necessary and that the American cable lines be restored to their owners forthwith. The President's approval was announced in a cablegram to-day at the White House.

Mr. Burleson said yesterday that he hoped to effect the return of cables by May 10.

TOTAL ARMY DEATHS

During War is 111,179. Fifty One Per Cent From Disease.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, April 29—An official report from the Surgeon General issued to-day gives the total number of deaths reported in the army during the war to date to be 111,179. Of this total 56,639, or 51 per cent, were from disease, 43 per cent in battle or from wounds received in battle, and six per cent from other injuries. Of the deaths from diseases about 12,000 occurred since hostilities ceased.

RED TROOPS ARE FORCED BACK

Admiral Kolchak's Men Advance Along Trans-Siberian Road.

BOLSHEVISTS LOSE POWER

Troops Composed of Allies, Czechoslovaks and Russians Carrying Out Excellent Program.

Paris, April 29—Admiral Kolchak's troops have advanced along the southern branch of the Trans-Siberian Railroad in Eastern European Russia to Kinel, only 40 miles east of Samara, according to dispatches received by the Russian commissioners in Paris from Omsk, the capital of Admiral Kolchak's government.

A slower advance is also being made along the northern branch of the Trans-Siberian, where the anti-Bolshevik forces have taken Glazov, east of Viatka. A third column is moving westward midway between these two forces and has reached Sarapul, on the Kama River. This stream is navigable and flows into the Volga and, with the disappearance of the ice, which is now breaking up, should afford easy transportation to Simbirsk, which is apparently the destination of the central column.

Prince Lvoff and other members of the Russian commission here believe that the movement westward will be rapid as spring advances and they expect that the lower Volga valley will soon be under the control of the Kolchak government. It is also hoped the Omsk forces will soon capture Viatka, thus making it imperative that the Bolsheviks withdraw from the Archangel section as the railway running north from Viatka reaches the Dvina at Kotlas and would make communication easy between the Allied forces in northern Russia and those of the Omsk government.

Admiral Kolchak's troops in all three columns are Russians, all Czechoslovak and Allied forces having remained in Siberia. Their excellent showing had attracted much attention in Peace Conference circles and is assisting the movement inaugurated some time ago for the recognition of the Omsk government by the Entente Powers and the United States.

Helsingfors, April 29—A National Assembly has been formed at Olonez, 110 miles northeast of Petrograd, where the Finns have driven out the Bolsheviks. The town was captured, according to reports, by volunteer troops.

The capture of Olonez by forces opposed to the Bolsheviks may have an important effect on the Allied campaign along the Murmansk Railway and through it on the situation in the Archangel region. For several weeks Allied forces commanded by General Maynard have been pressing southward along the Murmansk Railway and were last reported approaching Povenetz, at the northern end of Lake Onega. From Povenetz the Murmansk Railway swings westward, and before it reaches the southwestern edge of Lake Ladoga it comes within a few miles of Olonez.

A Stockholm report Sunday said that a revolt had broken out in Olonez and it is possible that the Bolshevik force facing General Maynard may be cut off if the anti-Bolshevik advance from Olonez. If the Murmansk Railway line can be cleared as far south as Olonez the Allies will be in position to out-flank the Bolsheviks south of Archangel, who also are threatened by the Siberian advance in the Viatka region.

NEW FEE LIMIT

Would Change Motor Vehicle License Date.

Efforts to change the provision for the half license fee for motor vehicles in the Ditcher bill now pending in the House of Representatives, so that the time limit shall be August 1 instead of September 1, will be made during the coming week. Considerable opposition to the late date has been heard. Truck owners have also asked for a number of changes in the bill, including an increase of the speed limit from eight to ten miles for the heavier trucks and from twelve to fifteen for the lighter class. The truck people have also objected to the license according to weight, contending that it would be difficult to establish it, as many trucks are sold on special specifications. The suggestion has been made that the license be on chassis weights. The number of trucks registered in the last three months is the greatest known in Pennsylvania.

COVENANT MAY AFFECT MEXICO

International Document May Force Quick Settlement of her Debts.

Washington, April 29—Mexican troubles, especially the failure of that faction-rent republic to meet its financial obligations and make reparation to the nations of the United States, England and France, according to diplomats who have studied the revised League of Nations covenant, may be forced to a quick settlement through the various articles of the international document.

This was the outstanding point of discussion here Monday among those who have interest in seeing peace and business order established in Mexico. The fact that Mexico, Costa Rica and Santo Domingo, whose governments are in the state of constant revolution and financial straits, were not included among the states invited to join the League, is accepted here as an argument that the larger states in the league, especially England, will call upon the Council of the League to take action in Mexico.

In a high diplomatic circle the opinion was expressed that either the United States would be called upon, acting under the Monroe Doctrine clause of the League of Nations or as a mandatory over Mexico, to take steps that will be authorized by the league's functions to assume direct supervision over Mexico until the damages suffered by nationals in Mexico have been paid and the financial system in that country has been made solvent.

Mexico owes the nations of Great Britain and the United States approximately $225,000,000 for damages to property and loss of life. The weak government in that country has done nothing toward effecting a settlement. It is known that Great Britain was about to call upon the United States, acting under the Monroe Doctrine, to assume responsibility for the damages to life and property suffered by her citizens about the time the European war burst upon the world.

CORN BORERS FOUND

State Waging War Against Crop Pests.

State Zoologist J. G. Sanders, who has been directing the hunt for the corn borer in Pennsylvania in conjunction with Federal authorities, who are also co-operating with this State and State College in fighting the potato wart in the anthracis field, says that the corn pest has not been discovered in this State in any quantity to cause alarm. There have been some scares, but the insects found were not the corn borer, but cousins with bad habits, which will bear watching. The State authorities are watching the State lines and the hunt in the agricultural counties has been conducted separately. One borer found in Chester county is called the cat tail, while another discovered in corn stalks in Berks is not identified, except that it is not the corn borer Uncle Sam has warned about. In the course of the hunt, a clover weevil of destructive tendencies was found in importations into Pennsylvania.

BRIEF SESSION

Judge McPherson Gives Opinions in Argument Cases.

In a brief session of argument court, Saturday Judge McPherson handed down an opinion in the case of First National Bank of Gettysburg as plaintiff and C. J. Delone, of Hanover, as defendant. Four separate accounts were involved in the case. Action was brought to revive judgments and the defense filed affidavits in which Judge McPherson decided that the affidavits were sufficient if proven in two of the counts. In the other two counts he allowed judgment to be revived.

A number of accounts of executors were confirmed at the session of the court.

LEAGUE ADOPTED UNANIMOUSLY

By Unanimous Vote President Wilson Nominates Secretary.

WILSON MAKES MOTION

Important Work of Conference in Final Stage. Will be Incorporated in Peace Treaty.

Paris, April 29—The covenant of the League of Nations in revised form, moved by President Wilson, was adopted Monday by the Peace Conference in plenary session without a dissenting vote.

The President's motion also named Sir James Eric Drummond as secretary general of the league, and provided for a committee to inaugurate the league.

Thus one of the notable works of the conference passes its final stage and is incorporated in the peace treaty.

The French and Japanese amendments after a brief discussion, were not pressed, and the way was thus cleared for unanimous acceptance of the league.

Italy was not represented at the session, but the name of Italy appears as one of the members of the league in the covenant as finally adopted.

Nine labor principles were adopted for insertion in the treaty.

The session adjourned without considering the report on responsibilities provided for the trial of the former German Emperor by five judges from the great powers. This report was handed in by the Council of Four and embodies in peace treaty a provision for the former Emperor's prosecution. This, however, has not as yet been adopted by the plenary conference.

For the first time at the conference sessions Italy was not represented and the five seats of Premier Orlando and his colleagues at the right of M. Clemenceau, the presiding officer, remained vacant. The other delegations presented full ranks, and the scene was stirring as the French Premier opened the session.

President Wilson was recognized at the outset for a detailed explanation. His speech was without oratorical effect and confirmed the explanation of the textual changes, most of which have already been noted, and named Belgium, Brazil, Greece and Spain on the League Council and also on the committee to prepare plans for the first meeting of the league.

In submitting the revised covenant President Wilson said:

"Mr. President: When the text of the covenant of the League of Nations was laid before you I had the honor of reading the covenant in extenso. I will not detain you to-day to read the covenant as it has now been altered, but will merely take the liberty of explaining to you some of the alterations that have been made.

"The report of the commission has been circulated. You yourselves have in hand the text of the covenant, and will no doubt have noticed that most of the changes that have been made are mere changes of phraseology, not changes of substance, and that, besides that, most of the changes are intended to clarify the document, or rather, to make explicit what we all have assumed was implicit in the document as it was originally presented to you. But I shall take the liberty of calling your attention to the new features such as they are. Some of them are considerable, the rest trivial."

After going over in detail the various changes the President continued: "Mr. President, I take the opportunity to move the following resolutions in order to carry out the provisions of the covenant. You will notice that the covenant provides that the first secretary general shall be chosen by this conference. It also provides that the first choice of the four member state who are to be added to the Great Powers on the Council is left to this conference.

"If Baron Makino will pardon me for introducing a matter which I absent-mindedly overlooked, it is necessary for me to propose the alteration of several words in the first line of Article 5. Let me say that in several parts of the treaty, of which this covenant will form a part, certain duties are assigned to the Council of the League of Nations. In some instances it is provided that the action they shall take shall be by a majority vote. It is therefore necessary to make the covenant conform with the other portions of the treaty by adding these words. I will read the first line and add these words: 'Except where otherwise expressly provided in this covenant' is the present reading, and I move the addition 'or by the terms of this treaty.' With that addition, I move the adoption of the covenant."

RETURN WIRES TO COMPANIES

Burleson Will Recommend to President that Lines go Back to Owners.

Washington, April 29—Postmaster General Burleson has accepted the inevitable, and in an announcement given out by him Monday evening states that he will recommend to President Wilson the return of the telegraph and of the telephone wires. He will also recommend the return of the cable lines to their respective owners.

The cable lines will probably be back in the hands of the companies operating them by May 10, but it is not possible that the telegraph and telephone lines can be restored until after Congress has met, because, as Mr. Burleson says, he is convinced that there must be legislative action before the lines can be returned, "safeguarding the interests of the owners in every way that it is possible to safeguard them."

Mr. Burleson evidently hopes to anticipate the action of Congress by his offer of a voluntary surrender of wire control. The experiments of governmental control of the telegraphs and telephones has proved a lamentable failure, and it is not surprising that Mr. Burleson is anxious to get rid of them. It is now conceded that the course of the administration in taking control of the telegraph and telephones after the war was over was unwarranted and was displeasing to the American people.

A Dismal Failure

It is stoutly maintained by the Postoffice Department that President Wilson signed the proclamation giving Mr. Burleson absolute control of the telegraph and telephones and the cables on November 2, nine days before the armistice was signed, but no explanation has ever been vouchsafed why this proclamation was kept secret for nearly two weeks. The telegraph and telephone service, inadequate enough during the war, became so thoroughly inefficient under Mr. Burleson's management after the war that there was a universal protest against his further control of the wires. Almost since the day he assumed management Mr. Burleson has been in bitter controversy with the employees of both the wire services. He has increased their wages, but they have remained dissatisfied until the climax came recently in the telephone strike in New England.

MEXICAN CITIES MAY BE OASES

When the United States Adopts Prohibition, May Remove Restrictions.

Laredo, Texas, April 29—Whether the Mexican cities along the border will become oases for "international drinkers" when America adopts prohibition in July has not been determined despite some leanings in this direction.

A movement recently was started to have passport restrictions removed, throw open the international bridge and run week-end excursion trains into Mexico. It was proposed to establish big gambling houses, cockpits, bull-rings and pretentious drinking emporiums. American business men vigorously protested on the ground that the trains passing through American towns would bring only a reputation for lawlessness.

The Mexican government has not indicated its attitude in the matter and seems disposed to let the liquor problem solve itself. Local officials are represented as not wishing to deny their citizens profits that American prohibition might bring.

Mexican cantineros have thrived in the year that Texas cities have been dry under the Texas military zone law. Passport regulations permit persons living within ten miles of the border to pass from one country to the other on a local permit. Many American residents visit Mexican towns daily to obtain drink. American authorities have prevented smuggling of liquor into the United States.

Medical authorities predict that unrestricted border traffic would have a serious effect on the army's campaign against disease.

All suspicious visitors from Mexico are searched by custom officers for contraband liquor. As a result of this strict supervision, mezel, a highly intoxicating Mexican drink that formerly sold for 50 cents a quart, now brings $10 a quart here when obtainable from illegal dealers.

Explaining History of Dress.

If one could only know the origin of all the many words we use in our daily talk, one would know much of the history of dress. Many of our most recently adopted clothes words come from France, but five hundred years ago dress terms more usually came from Italy, then the mecca of fashion. Hence, velvet came from "velluto," the Italian word to indicate shaggy. And "cameosole," which has recently been revived from an earlier English usage, came from the Italian diminutive of chemise.

WASPS SWAYED BY EMOTION

Observations Made by Naturalists Prove That They Have Qualities Akin to Human Beings.

A book, "Wasp Studies Afield," by Phil and Nellie Rau (Princeton University Press) maintains, giving instances, that insects—wasps, to be exact—feel and display emotions.

The evidences are plausible. A wasp, after regaining her spider following a long search, pounced on it with unmistakable viciousness. When later some meddlesome ants approached her burrow she kicked at them angrily and curled her sting menacingly.

Another species certainly displayed anger when a spider she was pursuing made one leap and escaped. She grew frantic; she became so excited over her discomfiture that she acted madly, walking, leaping and running about the ground in a frenzy till she tumbled into a mole's hole.

Still another wasp, examining broken ground in search for her prey, acted calmly till she arrived at a certain pile of loose earth. Her demeanor instantly changed as she "struck pay dirt." "She became greatly excited, nervous and quivering with eagerness."

One's Own Interests.

The woman no longer young who is earning her livelihood should make it a point to save a certain portion of her salary weekly, no matter how small it may be. Systematic saving leads to habits of thrift and gives the person dependent upon her own efforts a feeling of security. Furthermore, the woman past her first youth will do well to pass by many dress fads of the hour. Fashion is as wavering and as changeable as an April day, and the woman who must toil on alone will assuredly serve her best interests by clinging to quiet, conservative effects.—Exchange.

Needles Lung in Use.

Steel needles were found among the Kaffirs in Africa, and elsewhere, so that they may have had early aboriginal invention in more than one country. The earliest European eyed needles were of bone and ivory, sometimes of bronze. In 1370 steel needles were certainly being made in Nuremberg, possibly in England also, though until 1503 the raw material came from Spain.

ARTIST SAYS WOMEN DESIGN THE BEST WAR MEMORIALS

MADAME LUELLA SERRAO, WOMAN SCULPTOR, WITH THE BUST OF A SOLDIER SHE HAS DESIGNED FOR A WAR MEMORIAL.

"Why should not the women artists of the nation be recognized when our cities begin to design and erect their war memorials?" This point has been raised by one of the most successful of America's women sculptors, Mme. Luella Varney Serrao, a Cleveland artist of international reputation.

"There is a touch about the work of women, delicate, tender, poignant and sympathetic, which would help them to put into their memorial designs a depth of emotion and tenderness of appeal that would make our war monuments really worthy of the magnificent sacrifices of the men who fell, and truly representative of the high ideals for which they fought."

Mme. Serrao, an American-born woman, is the widow of Andrea Serrao, famous Italian art critic.

Barometric Violin.

Abram Moses, a violinist of Baltimore, is the possessor of what might be called a barometric violin. Some time after Mr. Moses bought it, he noticed that at certain times it exhaled a strange and subtle fragrance, like an aroma of Oriental incense. Later, he observed that this fragrance was noticeable only when the weather was about to become damp. He obtained the violin in Paris some years ago when he was studying there.

The Apocrypha.

All the Old Testament apocrypha, fourteen in number, have been translated into English and are included as apocryphal books in some editions of the Bible. They were formerly printed under a distinctive heading between the Old and the New Testaments, and in that form can still be found in many old family Bibles. They are always included in the so-called Septuagint, a version of the Bible used by the Greek church.

GRAIN STORAGE IS BIG PROBLEM

Much Wheat May Cause Market Congestion if not Properly Handled.

WAS TROUBLE LAST YEAR

When Crop was Smaller, Growers Should Study Stacking Methods. Sweating Causes Losses.

Washington, April 29—With a wheat crop of over a billion bushels in prospect in the United States this season, the greatest crop the country has ever produced, the need for efforts by farmers and elevator companies to market and store the grain with the least possible loss and congestion of traffic is impressed by the Bureau of Markets of the United States Department of Agriculture. In calling attention to this great marketing problem the department says that every possible measure should be taken to insure the safe storage and handling of this enormous crop. Last year, with a crop of about 900,000,000 bushels, the rushing of the grain to market immediately after harvest caused a congestion all the way from the terminal markets to the farm. The wheat "backed up" after the terminal elevators were full and congested the railroads and all country elevators. The result was that embargoes were placed on further shipments until the terminals could be cleared. Fortunately, the winter was an open one, or the loss due to lack of proper storage would have been heavy.

In some parts of the country last summer, especially in Indiana, for example, stacking was a feature of crop handling where it never had been before. Stacking is a partial solution to the grain-congestion problem which every farmer can apply. Furthermore, he is likely to be a gainer by the practice, for wheat that sweats in the stack, except during an unusually dry harvest season, will be of better quality than if thrashed from the shock. If stacked at once after harvest, weather permitting, the farmer may then thrash and market the wheat at his convenience. There is the further advantage that the wheat will not deteriorate should rains come as it would in the shock. As a marketing proposition, stacking as soon as the wheat has become thoroughly dry after the harvest is "good business", particularly with a billion-bushel crop and congested storage facilities in sight.

The waiter, Robert Palmer, was removed to a hospital with a fractured skull.

PLANE PASSENGERS KILLED

New England Machine Falls into Charles River.

Cambridge, Mass., April 29—An airplane used by the New England Airplane Company to carry passengers at a stipulated sum for every minute of flight, fell 150 feet into the Charles River Basin Monday and the passenger, J. Lester Allen, of the Dorchester district of Boston, was drowned. Ensign W. Elliott Nightingale, the pilot, was severely bruised. John Cummings, a Cambridge policeman, rescued Nightingale, who had worked himself free from the plane. Cummings and M. S. H. Williams, coach of a private school crew, dived for Allen, but it was nearly 15 minutes before they could bring his body to the surface.

Nightingale said that engine trouble had sent the machine into a nose dive.

HAGERSTOWN MAY BE ON AIR ROUTE

Government has Asked About Suitable Landing Place there.

With a view of placing Hagerstown on an aerial route which would connect Washington with points west as far as the Pacific Coast, Captain Chas. J. Glidden, of the Air Service Military Aeronautics, has written to a newspaper there for information regarding the possibility of locating a suitable landing field in that city. Captain Glidden has requested that the matter be taken up with the Chamber of Commerce in that city and to have that body report if such a site is obtainable in or near Hagerstown.

Captain Glidden requests information if such a site can be obtained, and, if so, under what conditions, either by lease or purchase by the government. It is more desirable, he stated in his letter, that it be near Hagerstown, and should be 1500 feet in length and 500 feet wide, must have a hard surface and not surrounded by trees or other high objects. It is also desired that the field be as near to the Post Office as possible and information regarding the transportation facilities between the field and Post Office is asked.

APPROPRIATION MEASURES SOON

To be Reported. Teacher's Salary Increase Among the Bills.

The House appropriation committee will begin to report out hospital appropriation bills within two weeks, it was predicted at the Capitol Monday. The list is being gone over again, every bill with the exception of a few for charities in distant parts of the State, being now in and the men from those districts having been asked to present them.

Chairman William J. McCraig, of the House committee, who is just home from Philadelphia, where inspections were made of institutions, said Monday that he could not say just what the bills would carry, but that the list was about to be gone over. The chairman said that he was interested in getting an agreement at an early date as to how to handle the increase for teachers' salaries, and was planning some conferences in regard to the colleges which have asked for over $5,500,000.

"In general we found the institutions asking State aid in good shape. There are some in Philadelphia which will need jacking up, but in the main the institutions there and in the rest of the State are all right," said Mr. McCraig.

Work will be started at once on the final revision of the general appropriation bill carrying the funds for the State government, which has passed second reading and contains the largest sum ever carried in such a measure.

Geneva, April 29—Former Emperor Charles, of Austria Hungary, has rented for eight months a house that once was the residence of Prince Jerome Napoleon. The house is situated on the banks of Lake Geneva at Prangins, near Nyon. The grounds around it are extensive.

Charles is said to have asserted that time hung heavily on his hands on the shores of Lake Constance, where he has been residing, and also that Wartegg castle was too small for him and his 22 attendants.

If the Swiss Federal Council offers no objection it is stated that Charles will definitely leave Wartegg for Prangins the first week in May.

GRADE CROSSINGS

State will Take Steps to Abolish Death Traps.

The question of just what the Federal Railroad Administration is going to permit in the way of abolition of grade crossings in Pennsylvania this year bids fair to assume an acute stage in a short time. Recently, urgent representations were made at Washington by officials of the Public Service Commission that some of the crossings condemned and for which abolition had been approved be undertaken. The Washington people contended only minor work should be taken up. Lately, there has been such an increase of automobile traffic with resultant dangers and the State has adopted a policy of getting rid of crossings on main highways as soon as possible. A dozen or more have been complained of.

FOR BRONCHITIS

A Coal Miner Thinks There is No Remedy Like Vinol.

Belleville, Ill.—"I am a coal miner, I doctored for months for a chronic case of bronchitis with a terrible cough, sore chest, throat and lungs, so I could not work. I could get no relief until I tried Vinol. It stopped my cough and built up my strength and I feel better in every way."—Andrew J. Gray.

It is the healing, tissue building properties of fresh cods livers aided by the strengthening blood building elements of tonic iron contained in Vinol which makes it so successful in overcoming chronic coughs, colds, and bronchitis.

KOEHLER WITH PORTLAND

Former Gettysburg Favorite in Pacific Coast League.

Arthur Koehler is catching for Portland, Oregon, of the Class A Pacific Coast League.

Koehler, who was one of the most popular base ball players ever known in Gettysburg, was in the Aviation Corps at San Diego, California, and signed with the Portland club as soon as he received his discharge. He is fielding and hitting well, as usual, but including April 17 the Portland team had lost eleven out of thirteen games.

It has always seemed to be Koehler's misfortune to get on a losing club. Gettysburg finished near the bottom when he was here and he was with tailenders in the North Carolina and International leagues. His work, however, was never responsible for the lowly position of his team.

Low Blue, former first baseman for Martinsburg, is also on the Portland club and hits directly ahead of Koehler. Blue got off to a very bad start in hitting as he made but one single in the first twenty three times at bat.

Minneboohoo.

Governor Saunders of Nebraska once spoke at Lincoln of a little settlement on a stream called Weeping Water. Lincoln chuckled, well, they say that Minneboohoo means laughing water, so Minneboohoo must be Indian for weeping water."

BOOKS NEEDED FOR SOLDIERS

Who are Forced to Remain Overseas. Collection will be Made here.

Although the armistice has been signed and the war is over, it must not be forgotten that there are about two million American soldiers in France, Germany and camps in the United States. These men, especially those compelled by the fortunes of war to serve overseas, still require the attention of war organizations, is the statement of American Library Associations.

The Pennsylvania Library Commission is sending an appeal to all the towns of the State to collect books for the men who may be required to serve abroad for many months to come.

Representatives of the American Library Association have cabled from France that three-quarters of a million more books must be sent to them at once, if the actual need for reading matter among the American soldiers is met.

Many of the two and a quarter millions of books that have been sent over have been worn out or lost through the exigencies of war and transportation. It is now necessary to furnish a new supply if the men are to be kept contented during the remainder of their stay overseas.

People of Gettysburg who desire to contribute books to be sent to our soldiers in France and Germany can do so by bringing them to the office of Charles Gardner, Room Number 4, in the court house.

Copper of the Ancients.

Metallurgists who have examined specimens of the so-called hardened copper of the ancients have found not pure copper, but usually an alloy, either natural—that is, the two metals existed in one ore so that in reduction an alloy was formed—or an artificial alloy made by melting the two ores together, the one copper, the other zinc.

Superintendent of Public Printing R. C. Miller, of Gettysburg, has been at work on the bill, having found after he assumed office that there were places where if efficiency was to be obtained and a schedule that would be understandable be provided, a new law would be needed.

MUST GIVE FACTS IN ARMY LETTERS

Washington Departments Have Trouble Straightening Out Allotments.

MANY ERRORS ARE MADE

Necessary to Give Complete Information. Similarity in Names Causes Delay in Making Payments.

The Gettysburg Red Cross chapter has received many requests from soldiers and relatives of soldiers for information in regard to straightening military business regarding insurance and allotments and much valuable assistance has been given. However, there are many people who do not have access to the aid of this valuable organization and it is necessary that all correspondents give the proper information.

The departments at Washington that are handling allotments and allowances, compensation and insurance of the men in the United States army are experiencing a great amount of trouble in straightening out the affairs of the millions of our soldiers. Because of the large number of men having the same names and the fact that many men are careless when corresponding with departments has caused many mistakes to be made.

It is extremely important to give the necessary identifying facts when writing to these departments so as to enable the Bureaus to locate the records. A striking example which shows how easy it is to make mistakes is shown by the fact that over 1200 Smiths whose first initial is E are listed among the records.

In corresponding concerning allotments, compensation or insurance it is necessary to give the full name, present address, allotment number or enlisted man's army serial number, date of enlistment, rank and organization, full name of allottee or beneficiary and the relationship to the enlisted man.

Letters concerning the payment of money should always be addressed to the Accounting Division of the Bureau concerned.

Letters concerning compensation or insurance claims due to death or disability should be addressed to the Compensation and Insurance Claim of the particular Bureau.

MARKETING GOODS IS IMPORTANT

To the Producer. Farmers Urged to Form Selling Organizations.

In 1918 Pennsylvania stood fifth in potato production throughout the United States, and the Department of Agriculture is interested in helping Pennsylvania potato growers to work together in order to solve the problems in connection with the production and marketing of this year's crop. Systematic selling is just as important as scientific production.

While the average farmer alone may be able to produce good crops, he cannot market his goods to the best advantage. A properly managed co-operative organization with a central packing and shipping house can render the potatoes of a number of small farmers uniform as to grade and pack. Such co-operation has been carried on successfully by the potato growers in Maine since 1912, when, as the result of a movement started by the State Department of Agriculture, a number of local associations were organized which in turn formed a central organization. At present there are over 70 local associations in Maine, every county in the State being represented by one or more locals.

All communities in Pennsylvania contemplating marketing this season's potatoes co-operatively should take immediate steps to perfect an organization for this purpose. Representative committees of producers should be selected to ascertain the need for co-operation, the amount of business available for such an enterprise, the support it is likely to receive, and to formulate plans and draft suitable by-laws for the organization. The transportation problems should be given careful attention because they are of prime importance. Only bona fide potato growers should be members.

For information and assistance in organizing write to Bureau of Markets, Department of Agriculture, Harrisburg, Pa.
